Chapter 1 General Provisions

Article 1 Graduate Schools and Other Basic Organizations Involved in Education and Research

1. The graduate schools and other basic organizations involved in education and research, established at the graduate level under Article 100 of the School Education Act (Act No. 26 of 1947) and the University of Tokyo Rules on Basic Organizations, are as follows.

(1) Graduate Schools

Graduate School of Humanities and Sociology	Graduate School of Education
Graduate Schools for Law and Politics	Graduate School of Economics
Graduate School of Arts and Sciences	Graduate School of Science
Graduate School of Engineering	Graduate School of Agricultural and Life Sciences
Graduate School of Medicine	Graduate School of Pharmaceutical Sciences
Graduate School of Mathematical Sciences	Graduate School of Frontier Sciences
Graduate School of Information Science and Technology

(2) Other Basic Organizations in Educational Research

(a) Research Unit: Interfaculty Initiative in Information Studies
Research Unit of Public Policy

(b) Education Unit: Graduate School of Interdisciplinary Information Studies
Graduate School of Public Policy

2. The quota for graduate schools or education units (hereinafter referred to as the “graduate school(s)”) are as prescribed in the separately.

Article 1-2 Educational and Research Purposes

Graduate schools shall set human resources development goals and other educational or research goals for each graduate school and major in the graduate school rules or education unit rules (hereinafter referred to as the “rules”).

Article 2 Programs and Standard Program Duration

1. Master's, doctorate and professional degree programs (referring to a degree program at a professional graduate school under Article 99, paragraph 2 of the School Education Act; the same shall apply hereinafter) are established at the graduate level.
2. Doctorate programs (excluding doctorate programs in veterinary medical science, medicine or pharmacy) are divided into an initial two-year program and a subsequent three-year program. The initial two-year program shall be treated as a Master's program.
3. The initial two-year program provided for in the preceding paragraph shall be called the Master's program and the subsequent three-year program shall be called the doctorate program senior division.
4. Notwithstanding the provision of paragraph 2, if required for the purposes of education or research, a doctorate program consisting only of the doctorate program senior division may be established.
5. The standard duration of the Master's program shall be two years, and that of the doctorate program senior division shall be three years.
6. The standard duration of a doctorate program in veterinary medical science, medicine or pharmacy shall be four years.
7. Pursuant to the provisions of each graduate school, if a student in a program as prescribed in paragraph 1 above requests that they be permitted to take courses and complete the program in a planned manner during a certain period that exceeds the standard duration of that program for reasons of employment or for other reasons, the graduate school may approve the request.

Article 3 Program Objectives

1. The purpose of the Master's program shall be to obtain a profound academic knowledge from a broad perspective, as well as to develop the ability to conduct research and apply knowledge in specialized fields. However, pursuant to the provisions of the rules, another purpose may be established to cultivate in students an exceptional ability to engage in professions where high levels of specialist knowledge are required.
2. The purpose of the doctorate program senior division and the doctorate program in veterinary medical science, medicine or pharmacy shall be to develop a high standard of research ability and cultivate a rich academic knowledge to be the foundation of the ability required for conducting unique and independent research in specialized fields. However, pursuant to the provisions of the rules, another purpose may be established to develop a high standard of research ability and cultivate a rich academic knowledge to be a foundation of such ability as required to engage in the highly specialized occupations.

Chapter 2 Requirements for Program Completion

Article 5 Requirements for Completing the Master's Program

1. In order to complete the Master's program, a student must have been enrolled at the Master's program for at least the number of years defined in Article 2, paragraph 5, have obtained at least 30 credits by taking courses including any required courses, have received sufficient research guidance, and have passed the screening of the Master's degree thesis and final examination. However, pursuant to the provisions of the graduate school rules, a student demonstrating excellent academic achievements may be permitted to graduate after one year of study as an exception.
2. In the case defined in the preceding paragraph, and when it is deemed appropriate for the purpose of that Master's program, the screening of research results for the specific topic may replace the screening of the Master's degree thesis pursuant to the provisions of the rules.

Article 6 Requirements for Completing Doctorate Program Senior Division

1. In order to complete the doctorate program senior division, a student must have been enrolled at the doctorate program for at least the number of years defined in Article 2, paragraph 5 (or two years in the case of students who have completed courses at the graduate law school as defined in Article 18, paragraph 1 of the Professional Graduate Schools Establishment Standard, Ordinance of the Ministry of Education, Culture, Sports, Science and Technology No.16, 2003), have completed the required courses and obtained credits as required by the relevant graduate school, have received sufficient research guidance, and have passed the screening of the doctorate thesis and final examination.
2. Notwithstanding the provision of the preceding paragraph, with respect to the enrollment period, a student who demonstrates exceptional research achievements may be permitted to graduate after more years than those stipulated below as an exception pursuant to the provisions of the rules.

- (1) One year for students who were enrolled in the Master's program or a professional degree program for more than two years and completed that program.
 - (2) Three years including the enrollment period in a Master's program or a professional degree program for students who were enrolled in a Master's program or a professional degree program for at least one and less than two years and completed that program.
3. The completion requirements for students who are admitted to the doctorate program senior division in accordance with Article 16, paragraph 2, items 7 and 8 shall be as prescribed in paragraph 1 of this Article. However, with respect to the enrollment period, a student who demonstrates exceptional research achievements may be permitted to graduate after more than one year as an exception pursuant to the provisions of the rules.

Article 7 Completion Requirements for the doctorate Program in Veterinary Medical Science, Medicine or Pharmacy

In order to complete the doctorate program in veterinary medical science, medicine or pharmacy, a student must have been enrolled at the program for at least the number of years defined in Article 2, paragraph 6, have completed the courses and obtained credits as required by the relevant graduate school, have received sufficient research guidance, and have passed the screening of the doctorate thesis and final examination. However, with respect to the enrollment period, a student who demonstrates exceptional research achievements may be permitted to graduate after more than three years as an exception pursuant to the provisions of the graduate school rules.

Article 8

In the doctorate program senior division, a student who has left the program after being enrolled for more than three years (or four years in the case of the doctorate program in veterinary medical science, medicine or pharmacy), and after completing the required courses and obtaining sufficient credits and receiving sufficient research guidance may be qualified to have their degree thesis screened and to take the final examination following deliberations by the Education Council of the graduate school (hereinafter referred to as "the Education Council") and obtaining the permission of the dean of the relevant graduate school .

Article 8-2 Shortening of Enrollment Period

If the credits obtained by a student before entering the graduate school of the University of Tokyo (limited to credits obtained by the student after gaining the qualifications for admission pursuant to the provisions of Article 102, paragraph 1 of the School Education Act) may be counted as credits obtained at a graduate school of the University of Tokyo and the student is deemed to have completed part of the curriculum for the Master's program or doctorate program (excluding doctorate program senior division) of the graduate school of the University of Tokyo by obtaining such credits. The graduate school may, taking into consideration the number of such credits, the period required to obtain the credits and other matters, deem that the student has been enrolled for a period prescribed by the graduate school not exceeding one year. However, in such a case, for the Master's program, the student shall be enrolled in the program for at least one year.

Chapter 3 Curriculum and Related Matters

Article 9 Curriculum

1. The required courses and credits in each department, content of research guidance and requirements for completion shall be determined by each graduate school.
2. In addition to the preceding paragraph, if the graduate school considers it necessary from an educational standpoint, pursuant to the provisions of that graduate school rules, a student may be required to take a course in another department of the same graduate school as a minor.
3. In addition to paragraph 1, if the graduate school considers it necessary from an educational standpoint, upon discussion and pursuant to the provisions of that graduate school rules, a student may be required to take a course in another department of another graduate school as a minor.

Article 9-2

In addition to the previous article, it will be possible to complete as a 'Leading Programs for Doctoral Education' or 'World-leading Innovative Graduate Study Program', which shall be prescribed separately.

Article 9-3

1. In addition to the required courses stipulated in paragraph 1 of Article 9, common courses open to students of other graduate schools (hereinafter referred to as the "common courses") shall be conducted at a graduate level.
2. Pursuant to the provisions of each graduate school, the common courses may be counted as credit towards Master's programs, doctorate program senior division, doctorate programs in veterinary medical science, medicine or pharmacy, or professional degree programs.
3. In addition to the provisions of the preceding paragraph, the common courses shall be determined separately.

Article 9-4 Course Method

Regarding course method, the provisions of Article 15-2 of the University of Tokyo General Rules on College/Faculties shall apply mutatis mutandis.

Article 9-5 Calculation of Number of Credits

Pursuant to the provisions of Article 9, when determining the number of credits of the courses in each graduate school, the number of credits shall be calculated as one credit for a class period specified by the graduate school within the range generally between 15 hours and 45 hours according to the course method prescribed in Article 9-4.

Article 10 Special Auditing

1. If a student intends to take a course related to the student's major at a graduate level at another university in Japan or in the curriculum of the United Nations University established according to the United Nations General Assembly Resolution of December 11, 1972 detailed in Article 1, paragraph 2 of the 1976 Act on Special Measures Attendant Upon the Enforcement of the Agreement between the United Nations and Japan regarding the Headquarters of the United Nations University (Act No. 72 of 1976) (hereinafter referred to as "United Nations University"), the student may audit the course under an agreement between the host university and the University of Tokyo.
2. The number of credits and courses taken pursuant to the provision of the preceding paragraph may be counted as the equivalent number of courses and credits taken at a graduate level at the University of Tokyo, provided that the total number of credits so earned does not exceed 15 credits. The total number of credits taken during a Master's program or a doctorate program senior division shall not exceed 15 credits in total.
3. Permission for special auditing stipulated in paragraph 1 and the application process for approval of credits earned at another university as stipulated in the preceding paragraph shall be subject not only to the agreement between the other university and the University of Tokyo but shall also be subject to the requirements of the relevant graduate schools.

Article 10-2 Handling of Credits Obtained at Correspondence Courses Provided by a University Overseas

1. The provisions of paragraphs 1 and 3 of Article 16-2 of The University of Tokyo General Rules on College/Faculties shall apply mutatis mutandis regarding the handling credits obtained by the student taking correspondence courses provided by an overseas university while in Japan.
2. The number of credits that may be deemed as the credits obtained pursuant to the preceding paragraph shall, together with credits obtained at the graduate school of the University of

Tokyo pursuant to the provisions of paragraph 2 of the preceding article, not exceed 15 credits.

Article 10-3 Approval of Credits Earned Prior to Enrollment

1. Graduate schools may, when it deems educationally beneficial pursuant to provisions stipulated, take credits earned in subjects completed by the student prior to enrollment in the graduate school of the University of Tokyo either at this university's or other university's graduate schools (including credits earned as credited auditors as stipulated in Article 31 of the Standards for Establishment of Universities (Ordinance of the Ministry of Education, Science and Culture No. 28, 1956) applied mutatis mutandis in Article 15 of the Standards for Establishment of Graduate Schools (Ordinance of the Ministry of Education, Science and Culture No. 28, 1974)) as equivalent to credits earned by completing subjects at the graduate school of the University of Tokyo after enrollment.
2. The number of credits earned pursuant to the provision of the preceding paragraph shall not exceed 15 credits, and when combined with the number of credits earned at the graduate school of the University of Tokyo pursuant to provisions of Article 10, paragraph 2 and paragraph 1 of the preceding article, not exceed 20 credits in total, excluding cases where the student has transferred from another university.
3. Application procedure for the approval of credits stipulated in the preceding paragraph is handled pursuant to the provisions of the graduate school.

Article 11 Academic Adviser

A student's academic adviser must be a specialist in the field of the student's major. However, with the approval of that academic adviser, a student may also receive research advice from another faculty member in the same graduate school or education unit, or from a faculty member in another graduate school or education unit.

Article 12 Research Advice Received at Other Graduate Schools or Research Institutes, etc.

1. If a graduate school deems that it would be beneficial to the student's education for a student to receive research guidance in part required for completion of the course at a graduate school or research institute, etc. of another university in Japan, the graduate school of the University of Tokyo may permit the student to receive such research guidance under an agreement with the graduate level, graduate school, or the research institute etc., of the other university at the discretion of the graduate school of the University of Tokyo.
2. The period for which a student is permitted to receive research guidance as prescribed in the preceding paragraph shall be as follows. However, if the graduate school deems that it would be beneficial to the student's education, this period may be extended for a maximum of one year (except with respect to the Master's program).

(1) Master's program:	One year or less
(2) Doctorate program senior division:	One year or less
(3) Doctorate program in veterinary medical science, medicine or pharmacy:	One year or less
3. The provisions in paragraph 1 and paragraph 2 above shall be applied mutatis mutandis if a student intends to receive research guidance at an overseas graduate school or research institution, etc. or in the curriculum of United Nations University.

Article 13 Special Provision on the Teaching Method

If the graduate school considers it necessary for educational purposes, at the discretion of the graduate school, education may be provided in a suitable method, such as courses or research guidance, at a time and for a duration other than the standard time or duration.

Chapter 4 Recognition of Program Completion and Assessment of Grades

Article 14 Recognition of Program Completion and Assessment of Grades

1. The dean of the graduate school shall confirm program completion following deliberations by the Education Council.
2. The Education Council shall screen the Master's degree thesis and assess the grade of the final examination.
3. The Education Council shall screen the doctorate thesis and assess the grade of the final examination based on the report of the Screening Committee as stipulated in Article 7 of the University of Tokyo Rules on Academic Degrees.
4. The mark and rank following the screening of the degree thesis and the examination grades shall be as follows. However, the examination results of the professional degree programs shall be determined by the graduate school.
 - (1) Examination
 - (a) A: pass
 - (b) B: pass
 - (c) C: pass
 - (d) F: fail
 - (2) Screening of Thesis
 - A. Master's program
 - (a) A: pass
 - (b) B: pass
 - (c) C: pass
 - (d) F: fail
 - B. The doctorate program senior division and the doctorate program in veterinary medical science, medicine or pharmacy
 - (a) Pass
 - (b) Fail
 - (3) Final examination
 - (a) Pass
 - (b) Fail
5. The results of research in special topics as defined in Article 5, paragraph 2 shall be screened or assessed in accordance with paragraph 2 and the preceding paragraph.
6. The grades for courses taken and credits earned at a graduate school of another university in Japan, abroad, or in the curriculum of United Nations University pursuant to the provision of Article 10, paragraph 1, Article 28 or Article 28-2 shall be assessed as pass or fail. However, this shall not preclude the University from providing detailed grades.

Chapter 5 Degree Conferral

Article 15 Degree Conferral

1. A Master's degree shall be conferred on students who have completed a Master's program, and a doctorate shall be conferred on students who have completed a doctorate program senior division or doctorate program in veterinary medical science, medicine or pharmacy.
2. The name of the major shall be specified on the degree.
3. The names of the majors described in the preceding paragraph shall be determined separately.

Chapter 6 Admission, Enrollment, Study Abroad, Leave of Absence, Resumption and Program Withdrawal

Article 16 Qualification for Admission to Graduate School
